

When you promote an offer that needs to be only locally displayed, the Geo-fence option will allow you to restrict the area to target places smaller than a country or a region and display your ads to users from a specific city or a custom area up to 50 km around your target.

This kind of option is particularly needed for food delivery offers for example.

[This option is available only for advertisers promoting local offers - Ask your Account Manager for activation]

